*Grandchildren don't make a man feel old; it's the knowledge that he's married to a grandmother.
– G. Norman Collie*

I advise you to go on living solely to enrage those who are paying your annuities. It is the only pleasure I have left. – Voltaire

*An archeologist is the best husband any woman can have: the older she gets, the more interested he is in her.
– Agatha Christie, news summaries, 9 March 1954*

Some people, no matter how old they get, never lose their beauty - they merely move it from their faces into their hearts. – Martin Buxbaum

*None are so old as those who have outlived enthusiasm.
– Henry David Thoreau*

*To know how to grow old is the master-work of wisdom, and one of the most difficult chapters in the great art of living.
– Henri Amiel*

*We've put more effort into helping folks reach old age than into helping them enjoy it.
– Frank A. Clark*

Sage Seniors' Safe House

*Most people think that aging is irreversible and we know that there are mechanisms even in the human machinery that allow for the reversal of aging, through correction of diet, through anti-oxidants, through removal of toxins from the body, through exercise, through yoga and breathing techniques, and through meditation.
– Deepak Chopra*

*Those who search beyond the natural limits will retain good hearing and clear vision, their bodies will remain light and strong, and although they grow old in years they will remain able-bodied and flourishing; and those who are able-bodied can govern too.
– Huang Ti*

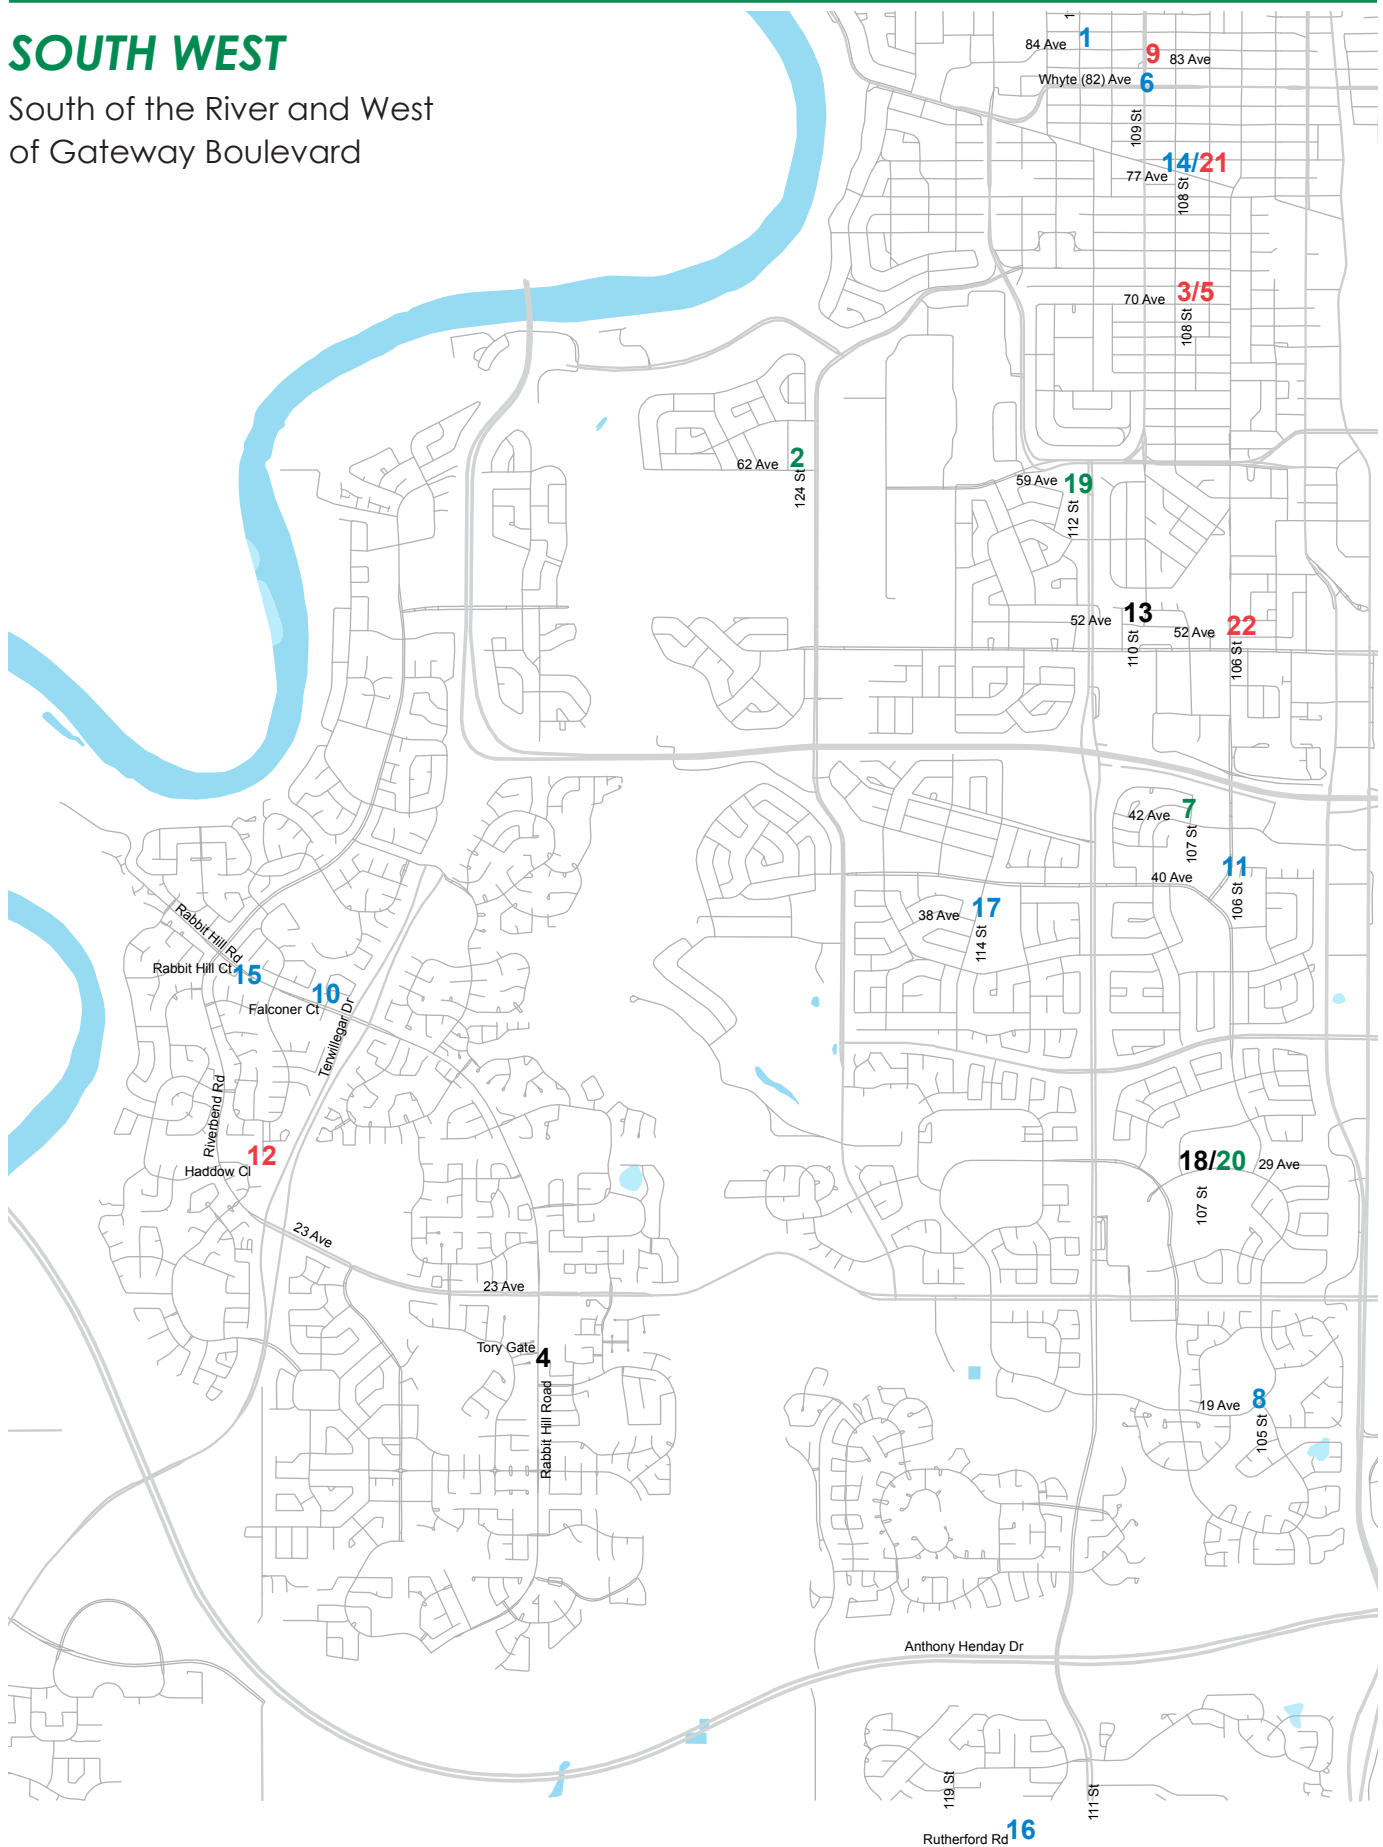

*Whether sixty or sixteen, there is in every human being's heart the lure of wonder, the unfailing child-like appetite of what's next, and the joy of the game of living. In the center of your heart and my heart there is a wireless station; so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, courage and power from people and from the infinite, so long are you young.
– Samuel Ullman*

*I have always felt that a woman has the right to treat the subject of her age with ambiguity until perhaps she passes into the realm of over ninety. Then it is better she be candid with herself and with the world.
– Helena Rubinstein*
