THANK YOU!

We would like to thank the Directory volunteers who worked on this publication. Without your time, skills, and energies the quality of this publication would suffer greatly. Thank you. Alberta Seniors and Housing, and the City of Edmonton, Family and Community Support Services help sustain the Sage Directory of Senior Services through generous grants. Their financial support assists in making this publication possible.

This publication is also made possible by our advertisers, for which Sage is thankful. Please note that the inclusion of an advertisement does not imply an endorsement by Sage. Listed prices are subject to change. Contact advertisers/ sites for current pricing.

Our Directory of Senior Services is a dynamic publication which is constantly being updated and expanded. Is your agency, organization, or business in the Directory?

Please note, non-profit senior-serving organizations are given free listings. For-profit businesses are required to purchase an ad in order to have a listing. So, if someone isn't here - let them know that you missed them in the Directory of Senior Services. If you're interested in having a listing or advertisement in the Directory, please contact 780.423.5510 or info@MySage.ca.

Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, information in this directory is subject to change. We encourage you to phone the lister for up to date information.

The following information and resources are for older adults experiencing abuse or those concerned about a senior.

ELDER ABUSE

Elder abuse is defined as any action or inaction by a person(s) in a trusting relationship that jeopardizes the health or well-being of an older adult. It includes denial of an older adult's fundamental rights, and neglect (active or passive) by a caregiver. It can take many forms including: financial, physical, emotional, sexual, and spiritual.

An abuser can be anyone, but most often it is a family member or partner. Abusers can also be friends or caregivers. They are most often close enough to have influence or control over the victim. Abuse includes using name calling, threats, yelling, put-downs, and physical intimidation to control the senior's actions or decisions. It also includes taking money or possessions without permission, and using coercion to have a senior sign documents. In many cases, older adults feel they have to give in or agree to something in order to avoid escalation or to ensure their safety. Sometimes abuse can unintentionally occur due to caregiver stress. With additional supports for the older adult and the caregiver, some of this stress can be relieved. Victims include both males and females from every income level and culture, as well as people in both good and poor health.

Signs of abuse

Older adults being abused may become withdrawn, depressed, and isolated. They may have financial difficulty, unexplained injuries, anxiety, or difficulty sleeping. They may have changes in hygiene, nutrition, or medication. They may experience diminishing self-esteem.

Some effects of abuse

Abused or neglected older adults have a 200% increased risk of early death. The stress of living in an abusive situation shortens an older person's life by several years on average. Living with abuse and neglect can also significantly increase the person's chances of becoming ill, or may make other health problems worse. Up to 6% of abused older adults become severely depressed.

Overlooking warning signs

Sometimes signs of abuse are mistaken as a part of growing older, or may look like other health conditions. For example: mental confusion, depression, or anxiety resulting from abuse or neglect may look like dementia. People may not realize that sometimes older adults are experiencing frequent falls or have long-term pain because they are being abused or neglected. Ageism can also play a factor in why these warning signs are overlooked. Ageism is a social attitude and a way of looking at older people that stereotypes them.

For example, often in situations of abuse, older people aren't taken seriously because they are viewed as being forgetful and seen as complainers. It is estimated that between 4 and 10 percent of older adults in Canada experience some type of abuse or neglect from someone they trust or rely on (Public Health Agency of Canada, www.publichealth.gc.ca, 2010).

PLANNED GIVING

Every day, lives are enriched by the work of registered charities, foundations, and other not-for-profit organizations in our communities. Financial assistance is essential to support and sustain their charitable work. By leaving a gift in your will or estate plan to the charitable groups of your choice, you can have a positive impact on a favourite cause.

A financial gift can also be a very practical addition to a financial or estate plan when tax issues are taken into consideration. In most cases, the tax burden left to relatives is lifted significantly. Your financial advisor can provide guidance on how giving may actually benefit your family after you're gone.

Things You Can Do Today to Leave a Legacy of Life

- Prepare a will
- Choose your charity
- Name an alternate beneficiary
- Consider memorial gifts
- Ask your legal or financial advisor for advice

Sage Seniors Association

WHAT TO DO WHEN SOMEONE DIES: A CHECK LIST

When someone dies there are a number of agencies, businesses, and government departments you may need to contact to let them know the person is deceased. Even if the deceased person was considered to be low income, many of the following resources need to be contacted and informed of the date of death.

Who should do the work?

□ Are you the legal representative? Yes if:

- You are named as the executor in the will:
- You are appointed as the administrator of the estate by a court; or
- You are the liquidator for an estate in Québec.
- □If you are not a legal representative, the responsibility goes to a surviving family member, in order of priority: spouse, child, child's parent, sibling, grandchild, nephew or niece, other relative solely remaining after deceased.

Who to contact AFTER someone dies

INCOME TAX

Canada Revenue Agency (CRA)

Inform the CRA of a death at 1.800.959.8281

 More information is available on the CRA website canada.ca/taxesdeceased: Information Sheet RC4111, What to Do Following a Death.

What to Do Following a Death

- □ Arrangements must be made with CRA if the deceased was receiving the following benefits: Goods and Services Tax Credit (GSTC); Canada Child Benefit (CCB) for a child; Working Income Tax Benefit (WITB) for a child.
- Arrangements should be made with CRA to transfer benefits.
- The legal representative or surviving family member has responsibilities under the Income Tax Act, and may need information from the deceased person's tax records. The information can be obtained by providing CRA with a copy of the deceased's death certificate, social insurance number and a complete copy of the will, or another legal document, such as a arant of probate or letters of administration showing that you are the legal representative. The legal representative's address is also needed for all correspondence with the tax service centre.
  - You may wish to appoint an authorized representative to deal with the CRA for tax matters on your behalf. You may do so by completing Form T1013, Authorizing or Canceling a Representative.
  - Death outside of Canada contact the Canadian Consulate Office for assistance.

PENSIONS

VEHICLE

☐ Ensure that the name of the deceased is removed from any car insurance policies by contacting the insurance company.

- If a vehicle was registered in the name of the deceased, attend a Registries office with a copy of the Death Certificate or Funeral Director's Statement of Death. Vehicles can only be operated under the Estate until the vehicle registration expires. The Executor will need to provide a copy of the will to change the vehicle registration. Parking placards may be cancelled at any Registries office.
- The driver's licence or identification card of the deceased should be taken to your local Registries office, together with a copy of the death certificate or a Funeral Director's statement.

Service Alberta Contact Centre

Phone: 780.427.7013.

ESTATE

☐ The survivor should notify the executor who will arrange for the will to be processed.

□If probate is needed, the executor will arrange with a lawyer for this to be done, but the survivor should gather all the necessary papers/documents together including the will.

STATEMENT OF DEATH

□All of the above actions require proof of death. The funeral home will provide you with a free statement of death that will be acceptable in most circumstances.

 Get information about financial benefits for seniors from the Government of Canada, including Canada Pension Plan (CPP), Old Age Security (OAS) and Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS).

Canada Pension Plan (CPP)

Retirement Pension

– You may qualify for a CPP retirement pension if you worked, you have made at least one valid contribution (payment) to the CPP, and you are at least 60 years old. Although the CPP retirement pension was originally intended to start the month after your 65th birthday, you can begin receiving your CPP retirement pension any time after age 60. You do not have to stop working to receive your retirement pension. Your monthly payment is smaller if you begin receiving it before age 65, and larger if you take it after age 65.

Disability Benefit

The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) disability benefit is a monthly payment. It is available to people who contributed recently to the CPP while they worked, and then became unable to work at any job on a regular basis because of a disability. The primary purpose is to replace a portion of employment earnings for people who recently paid into the CPP. There are also benefits for children if at least one parent qualifies for the CPP disability benefit.

Survivor Benefits

- Death Benefit: a one-time payment to, or on behalf of, the estate of a deceased CPP contributor.
- Survivor's Pension: a monthly pension paid to the survivor of a deceased CPP contributor.
- Children's Benefits: a monthly benefit for dependent children of a deceased CPP contributor.

Old Age Security (OAS)

Old Age Security (OAS) Pension

This is a monthly benefit available to most Canadians 65 years of age and over, and who have lived in Canada for a minimum of 10 years.

Guaranteed Income Supplement

A monthly non-taxable benefit to lowincome Old Age Security (OAS) recipients living in Canada.

Allowance

A monthly benefit for low-income seniors (aged 60 - 64) whose spouse or commonlaw partner is eligible for, or currently receiving, the Old Age Security (OAS) pension and the Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS).

Allowance for the Survivor

A monthly non-taxable benefit to low-income widowed spouses who are not yet eligible for the Old Age Security (OAS) pension.

Pensions from Other Countries

Canada has international social security agreements with a number of countries that offer comparable pension programs. These programs pay benefits when you retire, or if you become disabled or die. Social security agreements help people receive the benefits to which they are entitled.

- If you have lived or worked in another country, you may be eligible for social security benefits, either from that country or from Canada.
- If you need more information on Canada's International Social Security Agreements, please contact: International Operations Service Canada Ottawa ON K1A 0L4.

• If you live in Canada or the United States, you can also contact Service Canada, toll-free in English or in French at 1.800.454.8731 (TTY: 1.800.255.4786).

- The AISH program provides a monthly living allowance, a child benefit, personal benefits and health benefits if you are an adult with a disability that severely limits your ability to earn a living and meet other eligibility criteria. Your disability has to be permanent, i.e. you have exhausted all opportunities for rehabilitation and training.
- If you are receiving or are eligible to receive Old Age Security (OAS) benefits, you are not eligible for AISH.
- As an AISH client, you may be eligible to receive up to a maximum monthly living allowance of $1,685. The amount you receive will depend on you and your co-habiting partner's income.
- If you are an AISH client and you live in a facility, such as a nursing home, you may be eligible to receive a maximum monthly modified living allowance (Modified AISH) consisting of an accommodation rate plus a maximum personal allowance of $322. The amount you receive will depend on you and your co-habiting partner's income.
- Your assets and your co-habiting partner's assets must not exceed the limits allowed under the program.
- AISH may also provide a monthly child benefit of $200 for your first dependent child and $100 per month for each additional dependent child.

- Personal benefits may be provided to you for specific, one-time or ongoing expenses over and above the monthly living allowance or modified living allowance.
- As an AISH client, you, your co-habiting partner and dependent children may also receive health benefits including dental, optical, prescription drugs, essential diabetic supplies, emergency ambulance services and exemption from the Alberta Aids to Daily Living copayment fee.

- Alberta Aids to Daily Living (AADL) funds basic medical equipment and supplies to help Albertans with longterm disabilities, chronic and terminal illnesses, stay independent in their communities.
- AADL is a cost-share program. Clients pay 25% of the benefit cost up to a maximum of $500 per family per year. If you receive provincial income assistance, or if your income is below qualifying thresholds, you may be exempt from cost-share payments.
- To obtain AADL funding, you must be assessed by an approved healthcare professional. That person determines what equipment and supplies you can get through the AADL program. If you are eligible, they will give you an authorization for products from AADL's product list.
- To find an approved healthcare professional, you can contact your local health care centre or hospital, or call HealthLink at 811. Let them know what kind of equipment or supplies you are looking for, and ask them to help you find an AADL Authorizer or Specialty Supplier.

Palliative Care aims to relieve suffering and improve the quality of living and dying for a person living with a life-threatening illness. The goal of Palliative Care is to provide comfort and support to patients and their families. In the Edmonton Area, Palliative Care is provided in the home, in a hospice, in hospital or in a tertiary unit.

Caregivers Alberta (formerly Alberta Caregivers Association) helps caregivers maintain their well-being while providing care. "Caregivers" assist a family member or friend with challenges resulting from illness, disability or aging. We promote their well-being by:

- Providing group and one-on-one supports that help caregivers connect with others, navigate the system and look after themselves while providing care.
- Increasing community capacity to support caregivers by educating professionals, promoting networking and referrals, and sharing the programs we develop.
- Advocating for policy changes that will make a difference in caregivers' lives.

OPTOMETRY

Alberta Association of Optometrists

www.optometrists.ab.ca

- An annual eve exam with your optometrist can help detect serious eye diseases before they compromise your sight.
- Optometrists recommend that babies have their first exam between six and nine months. At least one eye exam between the gaes of two and five. and annually for everyone after age six.
- During an eye exam, your optometrist examines the tissues and structures inside the eye, looking for eye diseases.
- Many common eye diseases have no early signs or symptoms.
- Medically necessary and urgent care services are provided by optometrists. They have the proper knowledge, tools and equipment necessary to diagnose, treat and refer to a specialist, if needed. This includes things, such as: eye infections or injuries; foreign objects in the eyes; monitoring diabetes; and postoperative care.
- Check with your optometrists about your Alberta Health coverage for appointments.
- You can find an optometrist close to you by using the search tool on the website.

If you're 65+ there's no better time to focus on quality vision care – to preserve your eye health, an active, independent life, and the chance to enjoy all that you love. Speak to your optometrist about your Alberta Health coverage.

Sage Seniors Association

Phone: 587.773.1764.

Please be aware that Sage is not a housing provider or provider of funds for housing.

Seniors' housing can be very confusing. There are multiple providers and differing levels of care, and the variety of housing available within each level - including subsidized, affordable, and market rental options - can leave seniors and their families feeling frustrated and overwhelmed. Sage's Housing Information Services works to increase the knowledge of seniors and caregivers of available housing options and resources so that they are more able to make informed choices about housing options. Through Sage's Housing Information Services, staff consult with seniors (and often with their family or caregivers) to find appropriate housing, and help seniors without a local support system transition into housing that better meets their needs.

Housing Options -Continuing Care System

In Alberta, there are three streams within the continuing care system which can provide seniors with a broad range of health and personal care, accommodation and hospitality services:

- ☐ Home living
- ☐ Supportive living
- □ Facility living

Home Living is for people who live in their own homes, in single family dwellings, apartments, condominiums, and other seniors' independent living options. In home living, individuals are responsible for and capable of arranging any care and support services that they may need. They can access publicly funded home care services through Alberta Health Services Home Care Program, Home care can provide in-home professional support services such as nursing and rehabilitation, and personal support services like homemaking, bathing or grooming assistance. The home care program is governed by the Public Health Act's Co-ordinated Home Care Program

Regulation. Alternatively, individuals can purchase personal and other support services privately.

Supportive Living provides accommodation in a congregate homelike setting, where people can remain as independent as possible while they have access to accommodation and services that meet their changing needs. Supportive living combines accommodation or housing with hospitality services and other supports and care. It meets the needs of a wide range of people, but not those with highly complex and serious health care needs. Supportive living includes many different types of settings, such as (but not limited to) seniors lodges, family care homes, personal care homes, mental health and designated supportive living accommodations. The settings can be operated by private for-profit, private not-for-profit or public operators. In addition to providing a place to live, services in supportive living accommodations may include meals, housekeeping and social activities. Supportive living residents may also receive professional and personal support services through the Alberta Health Services Home Care Program. Supportive living is typically unable to serve individuals who exhibit unpredictable behaviours that put themselves and/or others at risk. Compared with home living, supportive living provides:

- Basic hospitality services such as meals (at least one main meal per day), housekeeping, laundry, and life enrichment services on site and arranged by the housing operator.
- A common area for meals, social functions, etc.

A safe and accessible environment.
 Supportive Living is governed by the Supportive Living Accommodation
 Licensing Act.

Designated Supportive Living (DSL3, DSL4, DSL4-D) is a supportive living setting for individuals who may require 24-hour personal care support, occasional and scheduled professional care, are no longer able to live at home and who would benefit from being in a group setting. Designated Supportive Living 4 Dementia (DSL4-D) provides residents living with dementia a home-like design with small groupings of private bedrooms and associated spaces in a secured therapeutic environment. This environment provides 24-hour on site scheduled and unscheduled professional health and personal care and support provided by LPNs and HCAs. Designated Supportive Living residents pay a monthly accommodation charge to cover the costs of providing accommodations and services like meals, housekeeping and building maintenance. Health services in designated supportive living are publicly funded and provided through Alberta Health Services. More information on having your care needs assessed within Greater Edmonton and moving into a designated supportive living facility is available by contacting Alberta Health Services at 780.496.1300.

See page 239 for information about the Designated Supportive Living program.

Facility Living/Long-term Care iCare is designed to meet the needs of people with the highest and most complex needs who are unable to remain at home or in a supportive living setting. Long-term care settings provide both accommodation and health services in facilities such as nursing homes and auxiliary hospitals and have specialized physical design and infrastructure to address highly complex needs. Long-term care residents with medical conditions that may be serious, chronic and/or unpredictable and require access to registered nursing services on a 24-hour basis. These professionals are able to respond to the need for unscheduled assessments and prescribe interventions. Residents pay an accommodation charge to cover the costs of providing accommodations and accommodation related services like meals, housekeeping and building maintenance. Health services in long-term care are publicly funded and provided through Alberta Health Services. More information on having your care needs assessed within Greater Edmonton and movina into a long-term care facility is available by contacting Alberta Health Services at 780.496.1300.

Facility living/long-term care is governed by the Nursing Homes Act or the Hospitals Act.

See page 141, 240 'Patient Concerns & Feedback' for more information regarding compliance and complaints related to the accommodation standards in Supportive Living and Facility Living.

HOME LIVING

SENIORS' SELF-CONTAINED HOUSING PROGRAM

Government of Alberta

This program provides apartment type accommodation to low and moderate income seniors who are functionally independent with or without the assistance of existing community based services. All suites are equipped with a refrigerator and stove.

Tenant Eligibility and Selection Criteria

Seniors whose income falls below local limits, as determined by the market for that community (refer to alberta.ca/ affordable-houing-programs.aspx), who meet citizenship requirements and who are functionally independent, with or without the help of existing community based services, are eligible. Seniors are defined as persons 65 years of age or older. Seniors can also be defined as someone less than 65 years of age with special circumstances. Eliaible applicants are prioritized on the basis of need according to a legislated point scoring system. Criteria used to determine an applicant's current situation and level of need includes factors such as percent of income paid to rent, emergency situations, utility responsibilities and accessibility issues.

Rental Rates

A tenant's rent, which includes heat, water and sewer expenses, is based on 30 percent of a household's adjusted income. The tenant is responsible for electricity, telephone and cable television, as well as any additional services they may request (e.g. parking).

Housing Delivery

Local Housing Management Bodies (HMBs) located throughout the province operate and administer the program on behalf of the Government of Alberta. Program elements delegated to individual HMBs include tenant selection, rent calculation, building maintenance and conflict resolution. HMBs may have local residency requirements.

HOME LIVING:

Alberta Health Services

provided to clients who live in their own residences to assist them to remain independent in their homes. Clients may live in a house, apartment, duplex, townhouse, condominium or any other independent living option.

Services may also be provided in community clinic settings. Examples of care provided at clinics include wound care, catheter care, lower leg assessment and intravenous therapy. Home Living provides care for clients at all ages and stages of life:

Professional and support services are

- Short-term care for those who need minimal assistance for a short time.
- Long-term care for the chronically ill and those requiring assistance to maintain health and independence.
- Palliative home care staff provide support for those at the end of life.
- Children's services support children with health care needs and their families.

Home Living services include:

- Home Care Adult Services
- Home Care Children's Services
- Home Care Volunteer Services
- Palliative Home Care
- Comprehensive Home Option for Integrated Care of the Elderly (CHOICE)
- Day Programs
- Community Aids to Independent Living

(CAIL)

- Geriatric Consult Team
- Stroke Early Support Discharge Day Programs provide medical, rehabilitation and/or social programs.

Most day programs support medical and rehabilitation needs and some programs support people with early Alzheimer disease or dementia. CHOICE - the Comprehensive Home Option for Integrated Care of the Elderly is an umbrella program that provides a full range of medical, social and supportive services for seniors at high risk of institutionalization. Transportation. emergency response, assessments for home adaptation and personal care are provided through CHOICE. Assessment and admission to CHOICE are arranged through Community Care Access at 780.496.1300.

- Patients, family members and the public may express complaints about the health services they receive through Alberta Health Services (AHS).
- Patient Concerns also receives suggestions, and compliments and acts as a resource for both patients and AHS staff and practitioners giving the Patients Concerns Process.
- When possible, speak to your care team first about any concerns or questions, or ask a supervisor or manager for help.
- A complete range of hospital and community-based health services is provided.

BUILDINGS WERE RENT IS GEARED TO INCOME: Rental rates, subsidized by Alberta Seniors and Housing Ministry, are usually 30% of gross combined family monthly income. Apartment sizes are bachelor and one bedroom. Pets are not allowed.

While the list below includes buildings where rent is geared to income, there are also seniors' apartment buildings that offer rent below market rates that should also be considered by seniors with low incomes.

HOME LIVING - HOUSING COOPERATIVES

Co-ops come in many different shapes and sizes, ranging from collections of townhouses and small buildings with 4-12 units to large apartment-style buildings with hundreds of units.

What sets co-ops apart from private rental housing is that they are democratic communities where the residents make decisions on how the co-op operates. Housing co-ops are member-owned and controlled organizations. The monthly housing charges are set by the members to cover the costs of running the co-op. Members elect the board of directors. approve the annual budget and set policy. Each member's right to live in the co-op is protected. A member can live in a co-op for as long as he or she wishes, as long as he or she follows the rules (bylaws) of the co-op, and pays his or her housing charge (rent) on time.

Housing co-ops can also be strong communities, where members actively participate in the business of the co-op. In addition to standard tasks, such as approving the annual budget, members often volunteer with maintenance tasks (e.g. lawn care) and are involved in other community-based projects, such as producing a co-op newsletter. Some co-ops work together to coordinate health and home supports for residents with specialized health care needs.

Adapted from 'Guide to Cooperative Housing', Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

HOME LIVING - LIFE LEASE

While financial requirements of the life lease depend on the particular development, residents typically invest in their apartment on a "life lease", allowing them to live in their own suite for as long as they choose. The requirement is usually a deposit of 35%-100% of the suite value before moving in. All residents pay a monthly fee to cover operating costs, such as property taxes, utilities, and maintenance of common areas. When less than the full value of the suite has been deposited, there is a monthly rental charge to finance the unpaid balance. In one example, a suite valued at $400,000 with 50% deposited ($200,000), the monthly rent was reduced from $2,560 with 0% deposit, to a total monthly cost of $550. This fee includes property taxes, utilities, maintenance of the common area, and in the suite, and property management. Additional services that may be available for an additional cost include a range of supportive living services, including meals, housekeeping, and recreation programs. Some developments offer long-term care facility living, which are accessed through Alberta Health Services -Community Care Access.

Should you decide to move out, or in the event of your death, the amount of your original investment is refunded or returned to your estate. No interest is paid on the initial investment. Depending on the particular life lease development, there is a deduction from 1% to 12% from the initial investment to cover re-sale and administrative costs.

When purchasing a life lease suite, the agreement should be reviewed by an accountant or lawyer for the same reasons that a professional would advise on a real estate purchase.

HOME LIVING - CONDOMINIUMS

Buying a Condominium

Buying a condominium means buying a piece of property individually, as well as sharing property ownership with other owners in the same condominium complex. Buying a condominium involves living within the boundaries of the community and the bylaws adopted by that community. The Condominium Property Act and the Condominium Property Regulations set out the rules for operating and managing condominiums in Alberta. The legislation includes:

- the rights of a unit owner
- the powers and duties of a condominium corporation
- the responsibilities of a condominium corporation and of a unit owner
- rules regarding budgets and financial matters of the condominium corporation
- rules regarding bylaws, including how they can be changed and enforced
- rules about reserve funds
- responsibilities regarding management agreements, renting a condominium unit, and proper insurance coverage
- requirements for annual general meetings of the unit owners and meetings of the condominium board

The Government of Alberta produces a Consumer Tip Sheet for Buying and Owning a Condo. Contact 780.427.4088 or download a copy at www.servicealberta.gov.ab.ca/ ConsumerTipsheets.cfm

SUPPORTIVE LIVING

What is supportive living?

Supportive living provides accommodation in a congregate homelike setting, where people can remain as independent as possible while they have access to accommodation and services that meet their changing needs. Supportive living combines accommodation or housing with hospitality services and other supports and care. It meets the needs of a wide range of people, but not those with highly complex and serious health care needs. Supportive living includes many different types of settings, such as (but not limited to) seniors lodges, group homes, mental health and designated supportive living accommodations. The settings can be operated by private for-profit, private not-for-profit, or public operators. In addition to providing a place to live, services in supportive living accommodations may include meals. housekeeping, and social activities. Supportive living residents may also receive professional and personal support services through home care. Supportive Living residents pay a monthly accommodation charge to cover the costs of providing accommodations and services like meals, housekeeping, and building maintenance. Supportive living is also typically unable to serve individuals who exhibit unpredictable behaviours that put themselves and/or others at risk.

COMPLETING THE SENIORS' SUPPORTIVE LIVING INFORMATION CHECKLIST - PAGES 193-199

The staff and Board Members of Sage have developed this checklist for you to use as you investigate the different facilities that may be able to provide accommodation and services that are required now and in the future. We have tried to include all the areas and address the issues that we feel are important to a successful relocation. There are many facilities in the community, and it can become confusing with the amount of information that you will be given. This checklist is designed to help you get all the information you need.

Our suggestion to make the search easier is to:

- Consider the area of the city that will provide the best access to services, amenities, and family supports.
- Consider any services or activities that are very important to you (place of worship, gardening, library, etc).
- 3. Use the checklist to learn the types of questions to ask and prevent issues that may arise after you move in.
- 4. Call the buildings that you are interested in and schedule a tour to view the building and individual suites.
- 5. As you are touring a building, ask the manager as many questions as you need to become an informed "shopper". You don't need to ask every question. Just those you think apply to your situation, now and in the future.
- 6. Use a separate checklist for each building. Feel free to make photocopies for your own use.
- 7. When you have toured all the buildings that you are interested in, compare the completed checklists
- 8. Eliminate the facilities that do not meet the specifications that are important to you.
- 9. Make your informed decision for your new home. Download the checklist at www.MySage.ca/help/housing.

Please call the Sage Housing Coordinator at 587.773.1764 if you need help with your search.

SUPPORTIVE LIVING - SENIOR LODGES

Seniors lodges typically offer single and double bed/sitting rooms, meals, housekeeping and other services, and recreational opportunities for seniors who are functionally independent, with or without the help of existing community-based services. Seniors Lodges may be operated by private for-profit or nonprofit organizations, however the majority of lodges are managed by a housing management body through the Seniors' Lodge Program administered by Alberta Seniors and Housing.

In the Seniors' Lodge Program, applicants are prioritized on the basis of need, taking into consideration housing needs, level of support required and the applicant's income. In some cases, applicants must also meet local residency requirements. Lodge rates are set by the local housing management body, so they may vary between regions. To protect lower income residents, operators must adjust the monthly rate to ensure that each resident has at least $315 per month in disposable income. For more information, call Alberta Seniors and Housing, Housing Division at 780,422,0122.

The following lodges do not participate in the Seniors' Lodge Program:

- McCauley Lodge
- Nihgi Metis Seniors Lodge
- All Shepherd's Care facilities
- St. Michael's Grove Manor

SUPPORTIVE LIVING DEMENTIA CARE SITES

These facilities offer suites that provide specialized, secure supports for residents living with dementia. These suites are accessed privately, directly through the facility operator and are not part of the Designated Supportive Living program (although they may offer both types of suites in the same facility). DSL contracted sites are listed on pages 239-242. In addition to the typical services found in supportive living, such as meals and housekeeping, dementia care services generally include additional nursing supports and specialized recreation programming. Each housing operator will have a different service model. We recommend you use the Checklist found on pages 193-199 when comparing sites.

DESIGNATED SUPPORTIVE LIVING SITES

Designated Supportive Living (DSL) is administered by Alberta Health Services. The term "designated" refers to spaces within a supportive living facility where Alberta Health Services controls access to a specific number of spaces according to an agreement between Alberta Health Services and the operator.

An assessment by Alberta Health Services is required to access designated supportive living. Referral for assessment within Greater Edmonton is made for all designated supportive living facilities through Community Care Access at 780.496.1300. You can access this program if you live in Alberta, have an Alberta Health Care Number or have applied for and are eligible to receive Alberta Health Care coverage.

Designated Supportive Living Accommodation Charges:

Residents are responsible for the cost of accommodation or rent in designated supportive living, as well as for any additional care or support services requested by the resident that are not part of the care plan completed by the Alberta Health Services case manager. Please note that the maximum accommodation charges in long-term care and designated supportive living increases annually on July 1 based on the Alberta consumer price index (CPI). For the most current maximum accommodation charges, please go to http://www.health.alberta.ca/services/ continuina-care-accommodationcharges.html.

The Province provides financial assistance to eligible low-income residents in Long Term Care or in Designated Supportive Living through the Alberta Seniors Benefit program. For more information, visit http://www.seniors-housing.alberta.ca/seniors/ or call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre at 1.877.644.9992.

FACILITY LIVING

Long-Term Care Facilities

(e.g. nursing homes and auxiliary hospitals) are specifically for individuals with complex, unpredictable medical needs, who require 24 hour on-site registered nurse assessment and/or treatment. For a small number of seniors who can no longer be supported in their own home, or in a supportive living facility, long-term care might be an appropriate living option. You may need long-term care for:

- Complex end of life care needs
- Complex medication management
- Complex nursing care
- Inconsistent or unstable behavior that places you, or others, at risk. An assessment by Alberta Health Services is required to access long-term care. Referral for assessment within Greater Edmonton is made for all long-term care facilities through Community Care Access at 780.496.1300.

Long-Term Care Accommodation Charges:

Residents are responsible for the cost of accommodation or rent in long-term care, as well as for any additional care or support services requested by the resident that are not part of the care plan completed by the Alberta Health Services Case Manager. Please note that the maximum accommodation charges in long-term care and designated supportive living increases annually on July 1 based on the Alberta Consumer Price Index (CPI). For the most current maximum accommodation charaes. please go to http://www.health. alberta.ca/services/continuing careaccommodation-charges.html.

The province provides financial assistance to eligible low-income residents in longterm care or in Designated Supportive Living through the Alberta Seniors Benefit program. For more information, visit http://www.seniors-housing.alberta.ca/ or call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre at 1.877.644.9992.

Staying at home

Use this guide to help you and your family to decide whether to live at home or to think about moving. Ideally, the senior will answer the questions, either in writing or in conversation with the family.

Safety
Is your home suitable and safe?
How difficult is it for you to manage the stairs in your home?
How willing or able are you to clean your home?
How willing or able are you to maintain the yard and outside of the home?
Do you have enough help available when necessary; e.g., during a short-term illness?
Are you at risk for falls? Does your home have good lighting, bathroom safety bars, handrails, and safe flooring?
Do you smoke? Do you have and maintain enough smoke detectors?
Do you have a hot water safety valve on hot water taps?
Do you have an emergency response system <sup>1</sup> in case of illness or injury?
Do you have other emergency contact numbers by the phone?
Finances
Is the choice to stay in your home economically sound?
What minor and major repairs must you make in the next few years?
Would freeing up the cash in your home allow you to have a more enjoyable lifestyle
Are taxes, insurance, utilities, and other costs affordable for you?
If not, do you have finances available for renovations or adaptations if they are necessary?
Can you get financial assistance for renovations or adaptations?

&lt;sup>1</sup>To locate an emergency response system, you can search the term on the internet or contact your provincial seniors' information line for more information.

Location
Is the location of your home suitable?
Is adequate transportation available for medical appointments, social activities, and visiting friends and family?
Are stores and other services within easy reach?
Is the neighbourhood safe and pleasing to you?
Do you value the relationships you have with your neighbours?
Do you have adequate access to friends, and social and church activities?
Is your own physical mobility or driving ability an issue?
Support Services
Are necessary in-home support services available and/or affordable for you?
Do you need the following services? Can you find them and afford them?
Household services (cleaning, yard work, minor repairs).
Home-delivered meals, grocery delivery.
Visitors, companions, drivers, etc., volunteer or paid.
Access to adult day programs (if required).
Personal care services.
Professional services (physiotherapy, nursing).
After completing the checklist and talking to your loved ones or other support, how would you answer the following question?
Is the decision to stay at home in your best interest?
□ Definitely yes □ Maybe □ Definitely not Permission is granted to Sage to reprint this checklist in its modified form.  Source: Chapter 9: The meaning of home.  Maureen Osis, Judy Worrell, & Dianne McDermid.  Your Aging Parents: How to Prepare, How to Cope. 2nd ed. 2010, ElderWise Publishing.

LEGAL INFORMATION ON PERSONAL DECISION MAKING

There are a variety of options for decision-making, which can range from advanced planning to full legal guardianship. Below is a description of the various options.

1. Options for Advance Planning

Personal Directive: a legal document that allows you to name an individual you trust to make personal* decisions on your behalf, in the event you are unable to do so yourself.

Enduring Power of Attorney: a legal document that allows you to name an individual you trust to make financial decisions on your behalf, either immediately, or in the event you are unable to make these decisions yourself.

Supported Decision-Making: allows you to name an individual to obtain personal information on your behalf that may help you in making personal* decisions.

Will: a legal document where you provide a statement about how to divide your property (also known as 'estate') after death. A will must be in writing, and does not take effect until you die.

2. Options for when an adult does not have mental capacity** and advance planning options are not in place.

Specific Decision-Making: when an adult does not have the mental capacity** to make a personal decision* and they do not have a guardian or Personal Directive, a health care provider (physician, nurse practitioner, or dentist for dental care only), may choose a relative to act as a specific decision maker and make the necessary decision on behalf of the adult.

Co-Decision Making: allows an individual, assessed as significantly mentally impaired, to consent to a court order appointing a trusted person or persons as his or her co-decision maker. The order requires the adult to make personal decisions* with his or her co-decision maker.**

Guardianship: a guardian appointed by the court has the legal responsibility to make decisions for an adult who lacks the capacity to make specific personal decisions and does not have a Personal Directive. Usually a family member or friend acts as a 'private' guardian. If no one is able, willing, or suitable, the Public Guardian may act as the adult's guardian.**

Trusteeship: a trustee, appointed by the court, has the legal responsibility to make financial decisions for an adult who lacks the capacity to make financial decisions and does not have an Enduring Power of Attorney. Usually a family member or friend acts as 'private' trustee. If no one is able, willing, or suitable, the Public Trustee may act as trustee.**

Informal Trusteeship: arrangements that allow an individual to have authority to assist with financial decisions for an adult who lacks that capacity, or where the adult has minimal assets and needs help managing a government cheque. These arrangements are made with the government department issuing the cheque such as AISH, OAS, Veterans Affairs, etc.

- * Personal decisions include: health matters, living arrangements (where and with whom), associations, participation in social activities, educational activities, employment, and legal matters (not of a financial nature).
- **The type of court application is based on recommendations made in a Capacity Assessment Report. Capacity is determined by a physician, psychologist, or trained capacity assessor.

Information about legislation that governs these various decision-making options, and appropriate self-help kits, are available at:

LEGAL RESOURCES

You will likely want to consult a lawyer to:

- purchase a home or a business;
- draft a will, personal directive or power of attorney;
- incorporate or form a partnership contract;
- or if you are being sued by someone;
- or, charged with a criminal offence.

Lawyers are able to serve a wide range of a clients needs. A lawyer's principal responsibility is to ensure each client obtains the benefit of his or her legal rights and is aware of his or her legal obligations. In approaching this duty, lawyers have three fundamental obligations:

- they must serve clients competently,
- be completely loyal to clients, keep client communications confidential.

The services lawyers can provide include: answering legal questions, helping clients find an answer, appearing in court on a client's behalf, mediating disputes, counselling clients, planning estates, administering wills, drafting contracts, writing letters and opinions, taking steps to avoid litigation, negotiating settlements and providing advice about client's legal problems.

CULTURAL OPPORTUNITIES

Edmonton offers a variety of cultural opportunities for the public, including art galleries, ballet and dance, chamber music, opera, symphony, theatre, and many others. Specific events are listed in the two local newspapers, the Edmonton Journal (Today's Senior section, last Monday of the month) and the Edmonton Sun. Also watch the Edmonton Prime Times paper for other articles on Leisure and Recreation. This chapter of the Directory is a great starting point.

TRAVEL INSURANCE

Consider whether purchasing travel insurance is right for your trip.

Types of Travel Insurance Coverage

- Medical travel insurance can help provide coverage to limit out-of-pocket costs if you become injured or sick.
- Evacuation If you're abroad and must deal with a natural disaster or political unrest, getting to a safe place in a strange land is a harrowing experience.
   It can also be incredibly expensive.
   Travel insurance can help cover the cost of getting out of harm's way.
- Cancellation travel insurance covers cancellations due to illness and injury, and other problems such as if your tour provider goes bankrupt or an airline delay causes you to miss your event.
- Baggage insurance will provide some reimbursement for lost, damaged or stolen luggage.
- Death and dismemberment Similar to typical life insurance, this option provides your heirs with a payout should you die during your trip.

All our members that engage in direct (to consumer) marketing are required to use our Do Not Mail list to remove matching names from their marketing lists. Names are maintained on the service for 6 years and the service takes approximately six weeks to take effect.
- To reduce telemarketing calls, register your phone number with the National Do Not Call List. Call 1.866.580.3625 or visit www.LNNTE-DNCL.gc.ca

FRAUDS AND SCAMS

Every day, seniors are at risk of being taken advantage of by criminals. Although many legitimate businesses market their products and services over the telephone (telemarketing), door-todoor, or through the Internet, mail, newspaper and magazine ads, there are some dishonest people who will use these methods to try to take your money. Learn how to tell the difference between a legitimate and honest offer and individuals who could be defrauding you. The following information is from The Little Black Book of Scams, a fraud protection guide provided by the Competition Bureau. To order a copy: 1.800.348.5358. To view the full guide online, visit www. competitionbureau.gc.ca/eic/site/cbbc.nsf/eng/04333.html

Scammers Do Not Discriminate

Scammers target people of all backgrounds, ages and income levels. Fake lotteries, Internet frauds, get-richquick schemes, and miracle health cures are some of the favoured means of separating the unwary from their money. New varieties of these scams appear all the time. Some popular scams include:

Lotteries, Sweepstakes, and Contests

You cannot win money or a prize in a lottery unless you have entered it yourself, or someone else has entered it on your behalf. You cannot be chosen as a random winner if you did not submit an entry.

Money Transfer Requests

Be very careful when someone offers you money to help transfer their funds. Once you send money to someone, it can be very difficult, if not impossible, to get it back, and you also risk having your identity stolen.

Internet Scams

Don't just assume an email you receive is legitimate. If the email is asking you to visit a website to "update", "validate" or "confirm" your account information, be sceptical.

Handy Hints to Protect Yourself

Protect Your Identity

- Only give out your personal details and information where it is absolutely necessary and when you trust the person you are speaking to or dealing with.
- Destroy personal information: don't just throw it out.

Money Matters

- Never send money to anyone you don't know and trust.
- Do not send any money or pay any fee to claim a prize or lottery winnings.

The Face-to-Face Approach

• If someone comes to your door, ask to see some identification. You do not have to let them in, and they must leave if you ask them to.

Telephone Business

 Do not give out your personal, credit card or online account details over the phone unless you made the call and the phone number came from a trusted source.

Email Offers

- Never reply to a spam email the best course of action is to delete any suspicious emails without opening them
- Legitimate banks and financial institutions will never ask you for your account details in an email or ask you to click on a link in an email to access your account.

Internet Business

- Install software that protects your computer from viruses and unwanted programs and make sure it is kept current. If you are unsure, seek the help of a computer professional.
- Never enter your personal, credit card or online account information on a website that you are not sure is genuine.
- Never send your personal, credit card or online banking details through an email.

Scams and You: What To Do If You Get Scammed!

Report a scam. By reporting the scam to authorities, they may be able to warn other people about the scam and minimize the chances of the scam spreading further. You should also warn your friends and family.

If you think someone has gained access to your online account, telephone banking account or credit card details call your financial institution immediately so they can suspend your account and limit the amount of money you lose. Credit card companies may also be able to perform a "charge back" (reverse the transaction) if they believe that your credit card was billed fraudulently.

If you have sent money to someone that you think may be a scammer:

- If you sent money through an electronic funds transfer (over the Internet), contact your financial institution immediately. If they have not already processed the transfer, they may be able to cancel it.
- If you sent a cheque, contact your financial institution immediately. If the scammer hasn't already cashed your cheque, they may be able to cancel it.
- If you sent money through a wire service (such as Western Union or Money Gram), contact the wire service immediately. If you are very quick, they may be able to stop the transfer.

- The Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre (CAFC) is a joint forces operation with the RCMP, OPP and the Competition Bureau.
- The CAFC collects information and criminal intelligence on mass marketing fraud, and identity fraud schemes.
   The CAFC does not investigate but provides valuable assistance to law enforcement agencies all over the world.
- The CAFC Senior Support Unit has senior volunteers that call back senior victims to offer education and support.

The CAFC top mass marketing scams targeting seniors:

Tax scams: Fraudsters are calling impersonating the Canada Revenue Agency claiming that a recent audit has identified discrepancies from past filed taxes. Repayment is required immediately. Fraudsters threaten consumers with jail time and/or deportation. Fraudsters want payment asap. Contact the CRA at 1-800-959-8281 to confirm if you owe back taxes or are entitled to a refund. The CRA would never request payment by money service business, iTunes gift cards or bitcoin. Phishing Scams are misleading and deceptive emails, falsely claiming to be from a legitimate organization such as a financial institution, business or government agency in an attempt to have the consumer surrender private and personal information.

These unsolicited phishing scams are designed to get victims to click on malicious links or attachment that result in the installation of malicious software. Watch for spelling and formatting errors. Check the embedded hyperlink in the suspicious email by hovering your mouse over the link to verify the address. Do not click on any attachments; they can contain viruses and spyware. Go with your gut. If an email seems fishy it probably is.

Prize Scams may target you by phone, email or social media. They say you are winner of a large lottery or sweepstake. They may claim to represent "Reader's Digest" or "Publisher's Clearing House" and before you get your winnings, you are required to pay a small advance fee to cover taxes or legal fees associated with the win. Never pay fees upfront through a money service business such as Western Union, MoneyGram or by loading funds to prepaid credit cards such as iTunes. Any unsolicited phone call advising that you have won a lottery is fake. No winnings are ever received.

Service Scam: Any false, deceptive or misleading offer of services. These scams typically involve third parties offering antivirus protection, lower credit card interest rates.

Emergency/Grandparent Scam: A grandparent receives a phone call from a con artist claiming to be a grandchild. They claim being in a car accident, and in trouble with the law and need money. Wanting to help, the victim sends the money as instructed. Variations on the scam exist but predominantly the emergency scam is directed toward the grandparents.

Extortion Scam: Consumers receive a call or text message claiming that they owe "back taxes" as the result of an audit. The payment must be made immediately to avoid a fine. However, the recipient is told that the outstanding warrant can be avoided if the payment is made promptly. In many cases, individuals are told they will be deported if the taxes are not paid right away. Consumers are instructed to purchase and activate iTunes gift cards and provide the codes back to the fraudsters.

Warning sign(s) - How to protect yourself:

- If you are asked to pay for any service or product with CRA or CIC by prepaid cards such an iTunes gift card, don't do it, it's a scam!
- Ask yourself why the CRA would be asking for payment through an iTunes gift card over the phone or text message when they already have you on file as a taxpayer.
- Contact the CRA to confirm that you in fact owe back taxes, or are entitled to a refund, before providing any personal or banking information.

But the scam with the highest financial loss is the:

Romance Scam

Any individual with false romantic intentions towards a victim and by gaining their affection and trust (sometimes with the promise of marriage) gains access to the victim's money, bank account, credit cards or in some cases by getting the victims (usually unknowingly) to commit fraud on their behalf.

In 2011, Romance scams emerged as highest grossing scam, with over 12 million dollars in losses reported by Canadians. This scam has also lead to incidents of suicide in cases where victims have lost their life savings and have been emotionally destroyed. For more information about frauds and

How To Report Fraud

It's not always easy to spot a scam, and new ones are invented every day. If you suspect that you may be a target of fraud, or if you have already sent funds, don't be embarrassed - you're not alone. If you are a victim of fraud – file a report with your local police. If you want to report a fraud, or if you need more information, contact The Canadian Anti- Fraud Centre:

Identity Theft and Identity Fraud Victim Assistance Guide

Tips that will help minimize your risk.

- 1. Before you reveal any personally identifying information, find out how it will be used and if it will be shared.
- 2. Pay attention to your billing cycles. Follow up with creditors if your bills don't arrive on time.
- 3. Guard your mail. Deposit outgoing mail in post office collection boxes or at your local post office. Promptly remove mail from your mailbox after delivery. Ensure mail is forwarded or re-routed if you move or change your mailing address.
- 4. Utilize passwords on your credit card, bank and phone accounts. Avoid using easily available information such as your mother's maiden name, your birth date, the last four digits of your SIN or your phone number.
- 5. Minimize the identification information and number of cards you carry.
- 6. Do not give out personal information on the phone, through the mail or over the internet unless you have initiated the contact or know whom you're dealing with.
- 7. Keep items with personal information in a safe place. An identity thief will pick through your garbage or recycling bins. Be sure to tear or shred receipts, copies of credit applications, insurance forms, physician statements and credit offers you get in the mail.
- 8. Give your SIN only when absolutely necessary. Ask to use other types of identifiers when possible.
- 9. Don't carry your SIN card; leave it in a secure place.

If you suspect or know that you are a victim of identity fraud, or if you unwittingly provided personal information or financial information: Keep records of steps taken to clear your name and re-establish your credit.

Step 1 - Contact your bank/financial institution and credit card company.

Step 2 - Contact the two national credit bureaus. Let them know you are a victim or at risk for ID fraud. Request a fraud alert be placed on your credit report (Dispute any activity on your report that you did not initiate).

FALSE CHARITIES

In Canada we have a long and honourable tradition of voluntary giving, often through charity organizations. If an unfamiliar charity organization contacts you - by mail, phone, or Internet - be careful. Are they bogus?

Warning signs

- High pressure or threatening.
- Want you to contribute immediately.
- Thanks you for a pledge you didn't make.
- Copycat, misleading, or deceiving names.

What you can do: Ask

- for information to be sent to you in writing.
- how much of your gift will be used directly for the charity.
- how much goes to administrative costs.
- if the charity is registered, get their charitable tax number. Call the Canada Revenue Agency at 1.800.267.2384. Compare numbers.

What else you can do:

- Never give your personal/financial information.
- Call the charity. Do they know of the appeal? Ask them the above questions.
- Remember, on an incoming call a person could be misrepresenting a legitimate charity.
- Once a year, decide which charities you want to donate to and send your cheque directly to their head office.
   There are more than 85,000 registered charities in Canada. The Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) reviews applications for registered status and determines if an organization's purposes and activities are charitable and provide a public benefit. To find out if an organization seeking a donation from you is a registered charity, visit canada.ca/ charities-list

INHERITANCE SCHEME

Foreign Money Offer: Any solicitation commonly offering or requesting assistance in the transfer of a large sum of money from an international country. The solicitation may also come from a lawyer or some legal entity advising the victim of an inheritance of a sum of money. The victim must pay one or more advance fees before the money can be released. The money or inheritance is fictitious and the victim never receives the money promised. This is sometimes referred to as Nigerian, 419 or West African fraud.
